Sir:

STATEMENT OF NEWLY NAMED INVENTOR

I, Chad D. Lingmann declare that I am a true inventor of the above referenced patent application and that my name was unintentionally left off the declaration without deceptive intent.

I contributed to the means for backing up a plurality of program-instance configuration files for said plurality of program instances, respectively; and means for backing up a configuration file for said program, as recited in claim 7. More specifically, I came up with the concept of how to generate the plurality of program-instances and wrote the "stand alone" mqbackup script used to export object configurations. All the claims are commonly owned by IBM.

Respectfully submitted,

Chad D. Lingmann
